3. Management Discussion & Analysis

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Global Economy

As per The World Bank Global Economic Prospects, The overall global economic environment remains fragile and prone to further disappointment, although the balance of risks is now less skewed to the downside than it has been in recent years. Global growth is expected to come in at a relatively weak 2.4 percent in 2013 and gradually strengthen to 3.1 and 3.3 percent in 2014 and 2015 respectively.

Improved financial conditions and relaxation of monetary policy is projected to gradually raise developing-country growth to 5.5 percent in 2013, and to 5.7 and 5.8 percent in 2014 and 2015 respectively. Although the likelihood of a serious crisis of confidence in the Euro Area has declined significantly, if policy fails to maintain its reform momentum, some of the more vulnerable countries in the Euro Area could find themselves frozen out of capital markets, provoking a global slowdown that could potentially subtract 1.1 percent or more from developing country GDP.

For high-income countries, fiscal consolidation, high unemployment and very weak consumer and business confidence will continue and GDP is projected once again to expand at 1.3 percent.

Indian Economy

The Reserve Bank of India has estimated the growth at 5.5 percent, much below to potential of 8 percent. The exports and imports amount to 43 percent of GDP and slowdown in world economy adversely affects the domestic growth. Even now, of the large countries of the world, only China and Indonesia are growing faster than India. And in 2013-14, if we grow at the rate projected by many forecasters, only China will grow faster than India.

Although government's effort to boost the growth by encouraging foreign investment that is consistent with the country's economic objectives, energy and infrastructure constraints together with political and security uncertainties have resulted in a fall in regional investment and industrial activity.

Though inflation rates eased in early 2013 due to interest rate hikes and slow economic growth, food inflation is still accelerating at a worrying pace due to inefficient storage and distribution facilities for farm produce, which lead to regular supply shortages.

Global Rice Market

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) has set its forecast of global paddy production 2013 season to rise to 746.7 million tonnes (497.7 million tonnes, milled), 2.1 percent, some 16 million tonnes, more than in 2012.

FAO's latest forecast puts global trade in rice in 2013 at 37.0 million tonnes, 2 percent lower than the 2012 record of 37.8 million tonnes. The new forecast reflects downward revisions to falling imports by China, Iran, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam, Nigeria, & Guinea. The exports, mainly by India, Vietnam, & Thailand are currently forecast to be very similar in 2013. Among the other major rice exporters, Australia, Cambodia, Egypt, Pakistan, and the United States should hold sufficient supplies to step-up their deliveries during the year, while current expectations point to further declines for Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay.

Indian Rice Mill Machinery Market

Agricultural credit is the driver of agricultural production and the government has increased the target by 22 percent to Rs. 700,000 crore for 2013-14.

The margins for rice millers are going to stay thin due to Government increasing the Minimum Support Price (MSP) of paddy of common variety and grade 'A' variety by 15.74 percent and 15.32 percent respectively for 2013-14.

Growing markets like Bihar, Uttar Pradesh (U.P.) and Odisha are expected to contribute more towards rice mill modernization as compared to last year. Imports from China are expected to continue the steady growth they are experiencing from last few years. Opening up of exports would lead the millers to follow more stringent quality control measures in their rice mills with increased focus on cleaning section. Increasing importance of food safety, driven by establishment of Food Safety and Standards Act 2006, aimed to provide safe and wholesome foods to the consumers which will increase the demand for clean and safe rice processing machinery. The Food Corporation of India (FCI) is relaxing levy policies due to full utilization of current storage capacity is leading the millers to sell in open market for better realization, which would lead to modernization of machinery to match the quality demands of open market.

Risk & Concerns

Risks of critical importance have been identified over a period of time. These risks are ranked on the basis of their impact on company's business and likelihood of their occurrence. A cross functional team takes stock of these risks and calls for necessary measures to mitigate the risks from the concerned risk owners. The risk owners then produce action plans for risk mitigation which is then evaluated by the team. New risks are added with the changes in economic and market scenarios and undergo the same process.

Identified risks include:

- Stagnating market growth;
- Shortage of funds delaying the projects;
- Steady growth of Chinese products contributed by both organized and un-organized rice mill manufacturers;
- Higher borrowing cost for millers affecting both profitability and cash flows.

Customer Support
